Are photovoltaic modules going up in Europe?

In Europe, the price increase for photovoltaic modules is not quite as strong as expected, at least until now. In particular, thin film module prices remained relatively stable, with March showing barely any movement.

What is the trend in European solar panel prices?

Despite slight monthly fluctuations, prices for Asian panels remain stable overall, whereas prices for European products have seen a gradual but steady decline. Space rendezvous: Prices for European and Chinese solar panels converge at the same high level for the first time.

What's going on with the European photovoltaics market?

The European photovoltaics market continues its downward trend in module prices. Despite new concepts making inroads, demand has slowed, keeping prices under pressure. Nearly every product has fallen by a couple of percentage points compared to last month's prices.

Are photovoltaic module prices decreasing?

Recent investigations confirm that the end of photovoltaic module price declines was apparent within the last few months. While the average price level was still slightly decreasing at the start of 2013, compared to December 2012, a trend reversal was already visible at the end of January.

What is the current price range of solar modules?

The prices for solar modules available on the market are still trading above the EUR0.60 mark. But other companies are constantly working to optimize the performance and efficiency of their modules.
